Sensitizing students through community service for accessible and inclusive to people with Differently-Abled:

St. Ann's College goes beyond its academic commitments to foster a culture of inclusivity and understanding among its student body. Recognizing the transformative impact of sensitization, the college actively engages in activities that promote awareness and empathy towards differently-abled individuals.

Celebration of Diversity: The college believes that true education goes beyond textbooks and classrooms. With this principle in mind, St. Ann's wholeheartedly celebrates important occasions such as World Disabled Day and White Cane Day. These events are not mere observances; they are vibrant expressions of support and motivation. Enthusiasm fills the air as students come together to recognize and applaud the unique capabilities of differently-abled individuals. These celebrations serve as reminders that every individual, regardless of their abilities, has something valuable to contribute to society.

Empowering Training Programs: St. Ann's College understands that sensitization starts with education. The college takes proactive steps in educating its students about various aspects of life, including those relevant to differently-abled individuals. Notably, the college offers comprehensive training on sexuality education to youth with disabilities. This initiative acknowledges the right of every individual, regardless of their abilities, to receive holistic life skills education. By imparting knowledge in a sensitive and inclusive manner, St. Ann's empowers its students to navigate adulthood with confidence and understanding.

Community Engagement: St. Ann's College believes that inclusivity is not limited to the campus; it extends to the community at large. The college's engagement with various organizations reflects its commitment to fostering inclusivity beyond its walls.

Financial Support for PAWMENCAP: The Mathematics department's financial support for PAWMENCAP, an organization dedicated to aiding mentally challenged individuals, is a testament to the college's dedication. By assisting in the sale of books prepared by these students, the college is contributing to their empowerment and integration into society.

Donations and Volunteering: Donating recreational materials and engaging in volunteering activities strengthens the college's bond with PAWMENCAP. These gestures go beyond financial aid, creating meaningful interactions that bridge gaps and create understanding.

Collaboration with NGOs: St. Ann's extends its support to NGOs like Devnar School for the Blind. Through collaborative efforts, the college contributes to the education and well-being of differently-abled students, fostering a sense of unity and shared responsibility.

Promoting Awareness: The college's dedication to inclusivity extends to awareness-building initiatives. Autism awareness sessions conducted at local schools showcase the college's commitment to enlightening the broader community about the unique challenges and strengths of differently-abled individuals.

Inclusive Field Trips: Annual field trips to organizations like Samarthanam Trust for the Disabled and NIEPID are designed to immerse students in real-world experiences. These visits cultivate an inclusive mindset among students and faculty, nurturing a profound understanding of the daily lives and aspirations of differently-abled individuals.

St. Ann's College's endeavor to sensitize its students about differently-abled individuals is a testament to its values of compassion, empathy, and equality. Through its celebration of diversity, empowerment-focused training, and community engagement, the college creates a ripple effect of positive change. By fostering a generation of empathetic and inclusive individuals, St. Ann's is not just shaping students' education, but also their character, allowing them to embrace the rich tapestry of humanity with open hearts and open minds.

Participants: 14 Under Graduate Students from Arts, Commerce and Science. 5 Participants are disabled and 9 are non-disabled and they are also from different states studying in St. Ann's College. Conference room, Centre for Women's Studies, St. Ann's College for Women, Mehdipatnam, Hyderabad on 29th August, 2019. Comprehensive sexuality education training to young people to protect their health, well-being and dignity. And these programmes are based on human rights principles; they advance gender equality and the rights and empowerment of young people. CSE training to empower young people to make informed decisions about relationships and sexuality and navigate a world where gender-based violence, gender inequality, early and unintended pregnancies, HIV and other sexually transmitted infections (STIs) still pose serious risks to their health and well-being. Equally, a lack of high-quality and developmentally-appropriate sexuality and relationship education may leave children and young people vulnerable to harmful sexual behaviors and sexual exploitation.
