Observance of World AIDS day is a signature event of the department of Microbiology since its inception. This year too, keeping up with the trend, the staff and students of the department took up the challenge to spread awareness in the college premises.

The students generated placards for the same and hung them up on the tress across the campus. The same were displayed on the notice boards across the college and also in the inter college to spread awareness in the youngsters. Red ribbons were distributed to the staff and students in the college.

The idea was to break the stigma and myths about the communication of the same by mere touch. Keeping up with the theme for the year given by the WHO- “Know your status”, the volunteers displayed the placards highlighting the theme. The success of the event is evident from the fact that one of the students from the first year reported on 3/12/2018, that she went for a diagnostic test for HIV and the department is very proud of her for the same.

बेटी

पूजे कई देवता मैंने तब तुमको था पाया |
 क्यों कहते हो बेटी को धन है पराया |
 यह तो है माँ की ममता की है छाया |
 जो नारी के मन आत्मा व शरीर में है समाया | |

मैं पूछती हु उन हत्यारे लोगो से |
 क्यों तुम्हारे मन में यह जहर है समाया |
 बेटी तो है माँ का ही साया |
 क्यों अब तक कोई समझ न पाया |

क्या नहीं सुनाई देती तुम्हें उस अजन्मी बेटी की आवाज़ |
 जो कराह रही तुम्हारे ही अंदर बार - बार |
 मत छीनो उसके जीने का अधिकार |
 आने दो उसको भी जग में लेने दो आकार |

La cuisine Indienne
 La nourriture est la chose la plus importante pour qu'un être humain vive. Il nous donne de l'énergie et de la nourriture.
 La cuisine Indienne est à la fois savoureuse et saine. La nourriture en Inde varie d'un endroit à l'autre. Supposons que dans le nord de l'Inde, les gens mangent plus de rôtis. Avec cela, ils feront de délicieux currys comme le masala au beurre de paneer, le curry de poulet et bien d'autres.
 En ce qui concerne le sud de l'Inde, le riz est un aliment important pour chacun d'eux. Avec du riz, ils mangent surtout du sambhar qui est fait avec du gramme rouge.
 Différents types d'épices sont utilisés dans la cuisine Indienne qui ajoutent plus de saveurs à la recette. Ils utilisent une poudre appelée garam masala qui est fabriquée à partir de quinze sortes d'épices. Cela ajoute plus de goût aux recettes.
 Pour le petit déjeuner Dosa, idly et puri sont les meilleurs qui vont bien avec le chutney qui est fait avec des cacahuètes.
 Le biryani est le plat le plus consommé en Inde. Il est composé de riz, d'épices Indiennes et de viande ou d'œufs. Différents légumes sont également ajoutés à cette recette pour plus de goût.
 Personnellement, j'aime le biryani, le riz Sambhar, les sucreries Indiennes comme le laddoo, le burfi et le jalebi.
 En conclusion, la cuisine indienne peut être un festin avec du goût, des couleurs et surtout des centaines d'épices. De la cuisine maison aux grands restaurants, la cuisine indienne peut être exceptionnellement belle, savoureuse et étonnante.

Field Visit to Tribal Museum on 03-Aug -2022 by Department of journalism

On 14 th November our class, accompanied by our journalism teacher, Mrs. Bharati Ma' am had the opportunity to visit the Nehru Centenary Tribal Museum in Hyderabad, India. This museum is a treasure trove of ancient relics and artifacts that offer valuable insights into the past. It was an educational and exhilarating experience for all of us.

We embarked on our visit using public transport, which added to the excitement of the trip. The journey provided us with the chance to bond with our classmates and anticipate the wonders that awaited us at the museum. Upon arrival, the sight of the majestic building filled us with anticipation and curiosity. The Nehru Centenary Tribal Museum is a sprawling establishment, thoughtfully divided into various sections, each housing a unique collection of exhibits.

As a part of our visit to the Nehru Centenary Tribal Museum, we were treated to a thought- provoking and enlightening movie screening about various existing tribes in Telangana. The movie provided us with a deeper understanding of the lives, traditions, and cultural richness of the tribal communities in our state.

The movie screening served as a valuable complement to the exhibits in the museum. It allowed us to visualize the lives of the tribes we had learned about earlier in the day. The visual representation of their traditions and practices left a lasting impression on our minds.

Field Visit to Tribal Society on Monday – 23 January 2023

The students of St Anns College for Women, Mehdipatnam had a wonderful opportunity to visit the tribal society of Chincholi and Dhanorala located near Adilabad laid hold of by Mrs Meeta Jhoshi, Hod History. The field visit gave the students an exposure to the lives of the tribal people, their way of thinking, the immense care and sense of responsibility they have towards their community. The students also got a glimpse at the various tool and techniques used by these people for agriculture, the kind of clothes they attire themselves, the traditions and beliefs they follow.

Firstly, we started by visiting a school at named Govt. Ashram High school (Girls)at Lakhampur, Neradigonda. It was a girl's school consisting of classes from 3-10. We were grandly welcomed by the headmaster of the school and the ITDA personnel with lots of enthusiasm within the students. The school was well maintained, students were able to speak confidently. In addition to that the school taught them all the subjects required along with our official language Hindi. It is said that students in that school gave the 100% results in their state examinations till date. We have had a great experience interacting with the students and the teachers over there. The students communicated with us with great joy and zeal. After the visit to the school, we moved on to the actual tribal village to have an interaction with people and know about their culture and traditions.

Chincholi Village, Adilabad:

We were welcomed by the villagers with their traditions and customs. They played instruments with great joy. We got along with the ITDA personnel, village sarpanch and the villagers gathered at a place for a meeting.

The sarpanch explained about to the villagers about the reason behind our visit. A short speech was given by Mrs Meeta Jhoshi Where she included explaining about the main aim of our visit to the village that we will be taking a survey with questionnaire where villagers must answer them so that we will get an appropriate data to submit our report to the government about the problems of their lifestyle and their livelihood.

According to Census 2011 information, the location code or village code of Chincholi village is 570084. Chincholi village is located in Sarangapur mandal of Adilabad district in Telangana, India. It is situated 4km away from sub-district headquarter Sarangapur (tehsildar office) and 94km away from district headquarter Adilabad. As per 2009 stats, Chincholi M is the gram panchayat of Chincholi village.

The total geographical area of village is 966 hectares. Chincholi has a total population of 2,002 peoples, out of which male population is 926 while female population is 1,076. Literacy rate of Chincholi village is 46.25% out of which 56.26% males and 37.64% females are literate. There are about 523 houses in chincholi village.

Type of Occupation:

As per the survey conducted by the students from villagers it can be mentioned that the major occupation of the villagers is agriculture and labor work at times. Most of the people in the village are uneducated therefore had opt for agricultural work.

Child marriage prevails in the village due to which women are unable to fulfil their dreams and ambitions. Even though the village youth wanted to work the situations prevailing in the village i.e. school dropouts, financial conditions, family issues, insufficient houses to live make their occupation confined to agricultural works on their lands.

Economic Sustainability and Their Lifestyle

The tribes in the village explained about their economic position and their ways of living. We observed that the living conditions of this tribal community are more like the people on or below the poverty line. The majority of the tribal population is engaged in agriculture and works as agricultural labor. Both husband and wife go to work together on farmlands. We studied their living requirements while observing their houses. The houses are impartial or rectangular sheds built on a coating of ground with or without a forum. The fabric consists of sticks, bamboo, wooden poles, and rice hay, mud and cow-dung plaster. This shows that they are dependent on natural objects for their houses without harming the environment. However, we found some of the houses were pukka indicating impact of urbanisation. The lifestyle and tradition of each indigenous community are unique and are related to the utilization of particular natural resources and particular types of work. The tribe's main issues are poverty, lack of drinking water facilities, limited education, and outmoded agricultural practices.

Traditions And Culture

Most people believe that Indian tribal communities are still very close to nature and have not only managed to keep away from the effects of modernization but have also successfully preserved their age-old traditions and customs. This would be evident by looking at their most popular tradition of playing instruments i.e.Kikri, Dakki ,Godres Etc .

To mention even while welcoming us they played these instruments, danced their traditional dance , sang a song of GOND language through which we were greatly impressed.

- Tattooing and their traditional occupation and its promotion:

Tattoos are the most famous form of traditions of the tribes living in the village. Most of the villagers shared that these tattoos are mandatory that many girls in those days were restricted to marry until they were tattooed.

India, too, has had a rich tradition of getting inked, with people using these permanent markings to signify their status, flash their family name, as a sign of belonging to a particular community, a marker for the afterlife, or just because it looked pretty. Many of these tattoos were made using a thorn or even a sharp bone as a needle, The ink is often made by collecting soot from burning vegetable oil, and mixed with breast milk, cow urine or milk for their anti-inflammatory properties.”

these traditional tattoos relied on indigenous herbs and healing methods, especially for aftercare, in the absence of modern medicine. The tattoos were largely of the stick-and-poke variety and done during the winter months to prevent infections. These traditional tattoos were perceived as permanent jewellery that nobody could take from them, even in the afterlife.”

Village Dhanora:

Tribes are one of the diverse groups among the Indian population. They remain disadvantaged mostly as they are considered as the lowest section of the Indian society since the ancient times. The tribes remain disadvantaged due to various factors like geographical and cultural isolation, lack of proper health facilities, inability to satisfy basic needs, lack of control over resources and assets, lack of education and skills, malnutrition, lack of shelter, poor access to water and sanitation, vulnerability to shocks, violence and crime, lack of access to proper infrastructure facilities and technologies and lack of political freedom and voice. All these challenges can make their living a difficult task.

The same goes with the village that we visited.

The villagers welcomed us with their traditional norms and cultures. The village sarpanch, ITDA personnel and our gathered in a meeting to have a discussion regarding the villager's problems and their livelihood.

The welcome speech was given by the sarpanch. Mrs Meeta Joshi Explained about the questionnaire which was conducted by the students.

Visit To Nagoba Temple:

After the visit to all the villages we were taken to the most famous temple in the village namely Nagoba Temple in Dhanora. The JATARA conducted most popular and many visitors visit to take the blessings of the goddess present over there.

Nagoba Jatara is a Hindu tribal festival held in a Keslapur village, Inderavelly Mandal Adilabad district, Telangana, India. It is the second biggest tribal carnival and celebrated by Mesaram clan of Gond & Pardhan tribes for 10 days. Tribal people from Maharashtra, Chhattisgarh, Orissa and Madhya Pradesh belonging to the Mesram clan offer prayers at the festival.[4]

Thousands of Tribal people from Maharashtra, Chhattisgarh, Odisha, Karnataka, Jharkhand and Madhya Pradesh belonging to the Mesaram clan offer prayers at the festival Nagoba. It starts in Pushya Masam, Hindu lunar month. A ceremony of 'bheting' is its integral part where the new brides are introduced to the clan god during first jatra after their marriage. Different people from different places visited the temple and offered their cultures and traditions in the jataras. there were many different stalls and shops set up. therefore, the visit to temple gave us the inner peace and calm.
