DIOXINS

- Dioxin and dioxin-like compounds are unintentionally created whenever chlorine-based chemicals are produced, used or burned.
- Dioxin is known as one of the most toxic chemicals ever produced.

DIOXINS

Did you know?

- Dioxin is known as one of the most toxic chemicals ever produced.
- PVC is responsible for a greater share of the nation's annual dioxin burden than any other industrial product.

DIOXINS

- In its ongoing study of dioxin, the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) suggests that there is no safe level of dioxin exposure.
- Thus, any dose, no matter how low, can result in severe health damage.s

Ms. Popy Devi Nath, Organizing secretary has welcomed the resource person with a tree certificate; a bountiful plant was planted in the name of Dr. Rukmini Rao in Sun Bear, West Siang, Arunachal Pradesh, India.

Dr. Rukmini Rao has congratulated the paper presenters for their wonderful presentation. She has highlighted on migrant women issues, gender-specific restrictions in migration policies, sexual and economic exploitation with stricter movement measures.

All the four sessions were very informative and effectively presented by eminent speakers. There is a lot of questions asked by participants in question answer session.

Ms. Popy Nath Devi, Director of Centre for Women's Studies presented vote of thanks. She thanked the resource person, paper presenters and participants for making the conference a huge success and enlightening the participants

The two-day programme ended with national anthem.

Recommendations/Action Points:

- There is urgent need to find more employment opportunities for women and more interest free loans be provided to women to start micro enterprises along with skill training to be provided to women .
- A skill mapping of the migrant workforce should be undertaken at local self-government institutions (LSGI) /district levels and social security schemes to be generated to rehabilitate them.
- More of community kitchens under the supervision of LSGI could provide more job opportunities for women in their villages or towns.
- Maternal and child protection frameworks along with food security measures through PDS are to be retained and made portable till conditions are back to normal as we cannot afford any single human being to suffer poverty.
- Vast majority of Indian women migrate as paid domestic and care workers. Setting up of more of day care centres for the young and the aged under governmental control (panchayat level) with at least one each in every panchayat is a means to generate more of employment opportunities along with utilising their skills for community development.
- The rural social protection schemes like MNREGA scheme could be enhanced and expanded to urban areas with more days of work and higher wages to the less skilled migrant workforce.

Guest Lecture on 'Patriarchy, Caste, and their Annihilation' in collaboration with UGC on 25th September 2020

Guest Lecture on 'Patriarchy, Caste, and their Annihilation' in collaboration with UGC on 25th September, 2020 by Ms. Cynthiya Stephen, Foundation TEDS Trust, Dalit Activist, Social Policy Researcher.

The program began with welcome address by Ms. Popy Devi Nath, Director, CWS followed by college prayer song.

Ms. Cynthiya has stressed on Brahminical patriarchy: the links between caste and violence against women.

She has highlighted on Feminism = Anti-Brahminical Patriarchy. The anti-Brahminical struggle and the feminist struggle are not separate movements, but are separate entry points into a similar struggle against the Brahminical patriarchy. Both believe that everybody should be equal. Feminism and anti-Brahminism go hand in hand because according to the logic of both the struggles, some cannot be 'more equal' than others.

The session was very interactive and students were very engaging.

Report on Importance of Native seed collection -Seed Ball Making Activity

Mou/collaboration with: Green Waves Environmental Solutions, a Waste Management Company

Title of the Activity:e -Importance of Native Seed Collection

Date of the Activity: 18-06-2021

Brief Report

As part of our volunteer activity, we are supporting to create awareness on The Seed Ball programme which focuses on increasing green cover across Hyderabad..

Seed balls are a way for distributing and protecting seeds by encasing them in a mixture of clay and compost.. Seeds balls are an ancient technique re-introduced, an advocate of natural farming, the ball protects the seed until enough rain falls to break through the mixture to allow the seeds to germinate; spurred on by the compost within the ball. The seed balls lay out all winter (seeds need exposure to cold to become viable) and when spring rains come, they break down to grow.

GUEST LECTURE 2020-21

REPORT

An online guest lecture on the topic "Hotspots of Biodiversity in India" was organized, in the form of Webinar, for 1st year students on 23rd December 2020 at 2pm, on Zoom platform. The speaker was a renowned Scientist, Dr. Deepa Jaiswal, Joint Director/Scientist Incharge, FBRC, Zoological Survey of India, Hyderabad.

Due to the Covid-19 pandemic, an offline lecture was not possible, so an online lecture on Zoom was arranged. All the students of 1st year were able to attend the lecture. The speaker was welcomed by a virtual green greeting. Profile of the speaker was presented by Ms. Kavya. Dr. Deepa Jaiswal explained the students how covid 19 was infact a result of our negligence towards Bio-Diversity. She also mentioned the various anthropogenic factors involved in destruction of Bio diversity.

Mou/collaboration with: Modern Medical Technologies

Start- End Date of the MOU : 2020-25

Duration of MOU : 5 years

Title of the Activity: Diagnostic procedures.

Date of the Activity: COC course (2020-21)

Brief Report

The Course outfit lies in its fine tuning the students in medical basics and diagnostics procedures and protocols and the procedures of recent diagnostic inventories made the students interesting. The futuristic approach of interns in subject specific trainings made the students enthusiastic of the course. The sessions were interactive to students and the internal pattern was a project based which has become the basic terminology of self learning and teaching. The students of non-science backgrounds also were interested in taking part in interns. The resource person also is ready to take up the students. Medical lab terms were found be important in futuristic studies.
